A MISTAKEN IDEA

There are some people who still resort to drugged pills or alcoholic syrups to overcome colds, nervousness or general debility, and who know that the pure, unadulterated nourishment in Scott's Emulsion is eminently better, but refrain from taking it because they fear it may lead to excessive fat or obesity. This is a mistaken idea, because Scott's Emulsion first strengthens the body before making flesh. Its blood-forming properties aid nature to throw off sickness by building health from its very source, and flesh is formed only by its continued use. Avoid alcoholic substitutes for SCOTT'S.

MINT COLA BOTTLING WORKS IN OPERATION

This New Beverage is Gaining Much Popularity Among Soda Fountain Patrons

The Mint Cola bottling plant owned by the Merchants Grocery Co., of Scotland Neck is now bottling between five and six hundred dozen bottles a day. The plant began its bottling activities the first this week and is daily meeting with heavy orders for the Mint Cola from local and county merchants. Thus far, according to Mr. T. F. Whitley general manager of the company, the demand for this home product has been very large owing to its popularity with soda fountain patrons. The drink resembles Coca-Cola very much and is used as a substitute for it; the drinkers declaring that it does not have the nervous after-effects produced by Coca-Cola and that it has a much more pleasing flavor than the Atlanta product.

The consensus of opinion among the mercantile firms here is that Scotland Neck has long been in need of a bottling plant which would enable local retail dealers to get fresher goods of this nature and at the same time save a large per cent of the product that is eaten up by the freight that has to be paid from the out-of-town bottling plants.

The Person Having the Army Pistol belonging to the late Major J. B. Neal will please return to The Commonwealth office or R. S. Neal, Washington, N. C., and be liberally rewarded.
